PORTFOLIO

2020

2020 will certainly go down as a extraordinary year for many reasons, which makes our planning for the Bibendum wine portfolio this year seem rather sedate – the objective has been one far more of evolution, rather than revolution!

In the past twelve months, the Bibendum buying team explored the byways and highways of the magical world of wine, in our continued search for wines of great quality, pioneering producers, and far-flung vineyards. All the while, we were driven not only by the never-ending challenge of finding improved quality at every price point, but also by our two guiding principles: sustainability, and packaging alternatives.

This year more than ever, our commitment to our customers is to provide the market's most exciting wines, that are guaranteed to engage and satisfy consumers at the point of purchase. We constantly curate and adapt our portfolio to cover every price point and drinking occasion, offering everything from a broad, varied selection of well-packaged house wines, to an indulgent fine wine range, and everything in between. For the past 30 years, a duty to help guide and educate the consumer on 'what's new' has remained part of Bibendum's DNA, a mission which continues to this day.

New to the portfolio this year is our fully recyclable, sustainable canned wine range, Small But Perfectly Formed. Packed here in the UK, the range uses our award-winning Sauvignon Blanc, Malbec, and White Zinfandel. Click here for pricing, or ask your Bibendum representative for details. As the world moves quickly towards reducing the use of plastic packaging, we will continue to drive the anti-plastic agenda in our future product development plans – watch this space!

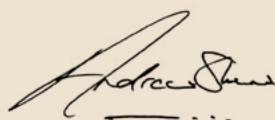

This year, we expanded some key categories in our portfolio. In California, we added the Robert Mondavi Winery with great success. In a strengthening of our partnership with Bisol and the Lunelli family, Ferrari Trento from Trentino joined us. To further grow our range and offerings from Provence, we added Ultimate Provence and associated brands. An array of Bordeaux wines were listed, as we partnered with a number of Chateaux to provide mature wines, directly from the estates themselves. Finally, the iconic Bibi Graetz from Tuscany joined our family of suppliers. On top of this, we added wines from Patagonia, expanded our organic Sicilian range, partnered with Lebanese producer Domaine Wardy, and listed wines from South Africa's Ghost Corner, marking our first portfolio expansion into emerging region Elim.

Finally, we were honoured to once again be awarded the title of 'Merchant of the Year' by the prestigious Sommelier Wine Awards, the only UK On Trade wine competition. Please click here for details of some our award winners.

All of us at Bibendum wish you all the very best for the year ahead and look forward to working together, delivering the perfect range from our award-winning portfolio.

MERCHANT OF THE YEAR
Sommelier Wine Awards 2020

Sommelier Wine Awards 2020: Merchant of the Year

Not only did we win Merchant of the Year for the fourth time in six years, but our award-winning producers also took home 50 gold medals, scoring a phenomenal 276 medals in total.

The award is a reflection of the quality, breadth, and depth of our range, as highlighted by the SWA:

First of all, the vast majority of Bibendum's medals were in the crucial £10-£20 area. This, understandably, is the most competitive area of SWA, so to dominate as it did here shows great buying – these are wines that can stand out even in a crowded field. Secondly, its entry was not dominated by one particular producer or country – in fact it was striking how evenly spread around the globe its Golds were. With an Old World/New World split of around 60/40 this was a performance with great wines in every area and no obvious weaknesses. On top of that, there's the fact that seven of our 12 Critics' Choice wines came from Bibendum. It's an extraordinary level of dominance of a section that is impossible to predict – awarded, as it is, purely on the basis of wines that stop our tasters dead in their tracks. It's proof, if any were needed, that while Bibendum might be a big name there is no shortage of real gems within its portfolio.

Critic's Choice Awards

Vin Jaune Arbois, Domaine de la Pinte

"An incredibly powerful nose fills the glass, with dried apricot and almonds shining through. An oxidative character is backed up by bitter lemon rind and marmalade, and cut with salinity. Brilliantly fresh and uplifting."

Tim Handley, Royal Automobile Club

Heritage Zinfandel, Dry Creek

"Really attractive and appealing, with a soft, gentle nose showing subtle notes of menthol and forest, leading to a rich and elegant palate with gentle tannins and a peppery finish. This is looking for a lightly chargrilled steak, with chargrilled vegetables."

Antoin UaRuairc, UK Midland Sommelier

White Pinot 2016, Litmus

"A plush wine, with some well-integrated toasty elements and toffee, vanilla and pear notes. This can go with heavier dishes, and will develop over time."

Alonso Abed, Trivet

Imperial Panoramic Cava Brut Reserva, Llopart

"Great minerality, as well as pastry and brioche notes. There's lots of fruit too, considering the age, and with much more to come. Complex and balanced."

Michael Driscoll, Careys Manor Hotel & SenSpa

Alpendre Merenzao, Ronsel do Sil

"This has lovely acidity and a fresh, light structure, with bright red berries and spice to complement the fruit, giving it more complexity."

Jurijs Nemkovs, StreetXO

Les Fourneaux Chablis 1er Cru, Domaine Paul Nicolle

"This is well-made and integrated with citrus at the start, then cream, and a light hazelnut note on the palate, all carried by acidity, and leaving a light, flinty finish."

Tim Handley, Royal Automobile Club

Te Arai Chenin Blanc, Millton Vineyards

"Lively, funky and fun as hell, with cola bottle and honeydew notes. Drink it. Love it."

Harry Crowther, Grape Times UK

By The Glass Award

Malbec, Bodega Argentio

"Juicy black cherries, black plums and blueberries, with a touch of green bell pepper and oak notes of toast, smoke and leather."

Bibi Graetz

Big Names in Winemaking

Francois Millet et Fils France | p17

One of Burgundy's legendary winemakers, Francois Millet combined forces with his sons in 2017 to create their own family wines. They draw on Francois' extraordinary experience and knowledge to produce some truly phenomenal, limited production wines that are more than worthy of the cult of their winemaker.

Bibi Graetz Italy | p24

In just two decades, artist-turned-winemaker Bibi Graetz has risen to become one of Tuscany's most ingenious cult winemakers. Turning his back on both the constraints of the traditionalist Chianti DOCG, as well as the international varieties favoured by the Super Tuscans, his aim is simple: to make the best wines possible, from the best growing areas he can find in Montepulciano.

Ferrari Trento Italy | p14

No one embodies the spirit of Italian sparkling quite like Ferrari Trento. Founder Giulio Ferrari was responsible not only for planting Italy's first Chardonnay cuttings in the Trentino Mountains, but also for producing Metodo Classico wines able to hold their own against the world's finest Champagnes.

Robert Mondavi USA | p34

Few names are as iconic in winemaking as Robert Mondavi. His eponymous winery not only produces some of the world's most famous Cabernet Sauvignons, it is also upheld as the pioneering force in bringing worldwide recognition to the Napa Valley. The winery's long and illustrious history aside, the range is globally renowned for its elegant complexity, rich fruit, and structure.

Regions off the Beaten Track

Bodega Otronia Argentina | p38

Few producers operate under conditions as extreme as Bodega Otronia. As the southernmost producer in the country, this is Argentinian winemaking as you've never seen it before. In this region, labelled 'Patagonia Extrema', vines are subject to challenging conditions of minimal rainfall and staggeringly high winds. Yet this gives rise to phenomenal wines, with electric acidity and delicate fruit aromas.

Neudorf Vineyards New Zealand | p45

Neudorf Vineyards is considered one of New Zealand's most treasured producers of Chardonnay and Pinot Noir. Situated in Nelson, New Zealand's sunniest region and as of yet a small-scale player in the wine world, Neudorf has risen to become a well-known pioneer of organic winemaking, with a fantastic reputation for quality.

David Nieuwoudt

Ghost Corner South Africa | p40

Ghost Corner's wines are as intriguing as the land they come from. Their vineyards are situated in Elim, one of South Africa's newest and most exciting winemaking regions, where high light intensity, cooling sea winds and lime-rich soils combine to create a wholly challenging and unique terroir. The range is exceptional; powerfully concentrated and elegantly fruit-driven.

Domaine Wardy Lebanon | p42

The Wardy family have been crafting wines in the Beqaa Valley for four generations, and hold an unwavering determination to remain true to Lebanon's winemaking traditions, in a bid to express the true character and terroir of the region through their wines. Unusually for Lebanese wine, Domaine Wardy's range is defined by light, delicate flavours and a refined elegance.

Weingut Nittnaus Austria | p32

Biodynamic farming, organic practices and indigenous grapes are the cornerstones of this Austrian powerhouse's winemaking prowess, and they've paid off. From harmonious reds, to fresh and fruity whites, – this is a range that truly reflects the unique micro-climate of Neusiedlersee.

France with a twist

Nicolas Rossignol

Domaine Pavelot Burgundy | p18

There have been members of the Pavelot family working vines in Savigny-les-Beaunes for generations. Hugues Pavelot is now leading the domaine and crafting some of the best 1er Crus in the entire appellation. Utmost emphasis is placed on work in the vineyard, with the Pavelots holding true to their founders' belief that this is where quality is born.

Domaine Felines Jourdan Languedoc-Rousillon | p21

Domaine Felines Jourdan are one of the most famous names in Picpoul. Situated at the edge of the picturesque Thau Lagoon, renowned for its abundance of marine life, the winery today is run by Claude Jourdan, who promotes an ecologically-friendly approach in everything they do.

Domaine Nicolas Rossignol Burgundy | p18

Part of the renowned Rossignol family of Burgundian winemakers, Nicolas Rossignol started his own domaine in 1997 and never looked back. Nicolas holds to the belief that the future of wine lies in innovation, rather than sticking to the rules of the past. Following a biodynamic approach, he actively enterprises to make rich, elegant wines that fight people's preconceptions of what each region in Burgundy can produce.

Chateau Saint Roux Provence | p21

Chateau Saint-Roux fly the flags of tradition, terroir and ecology alike. The winery dates back to the 15th century, when an Italian nobleman founded the estate, naming it 'Roux' after its distinctive red soils. Yet these unique vermilion hues are significant; caused by high levels of iron in the soil, they translate into uniquely deep, complex and punchy flavours in these Provencal rosés.

Ultimate Provence Provence | p21

Ultimate Provence have rose wine in their DNA. With over two centuries of winemaking history under their belt, they are an institution in the region, owning scores of Provence's finest vineyards, as well as a unique knowledge in blending that results in some of the most beautiful wines in the market – with an urban twist.

What else is new?

Bodega Mustiguillo

Quinta de la Rosa Portugal | p28

Quinta de la Rosa has been in the Bergqvist family since 1906. Having been a top quality port producer since the 1980s, the family were one of the pioneers in taking red wine production in the Douro region seriously. They embrace sustainable farming practices, promoting biodiversity and growing vines with as little interference as possible.

Bodega Mustiguillo Spain | p29

It's not just organic farming and a sustainable approach that characterises the mindset at Bodega Mustiguillo. Focus here is solely on indigenous Valencian grapes: Bobal, and Merseguada. The winery spans two estates; Finca Calvestra, and Finca Terrerazo, whose unique terroir led to its being awarded a DOP in 2010, making it the first Vino de Pago single estate wine DO in the Mediterranean.

Azienda Agricola Giovanni Rosso Italy | p23

The Rosso family have farmed vineyards in Serralunga d'Alba for centuries, and their winemaking know-how and prowess translates beautifully into their stellar Barolos. The Giovanni Rosso vineyards span some of the most historically important areas in the region, and winemaker Davide Rosso manages to incorporate the subtle nuances of each terroir into every wine he makes, all crafted using organic principles.

Vini Valori Italy | p24

Rooted in Abruzzo's Teramo Hills, this modern hub of winemaking has two aims; to make better wine year on year, and love the land where it grows. On top of practising organics, winemaker Luigi Valori is a passionate supporter of sustainability, for both the environment and his wider community and market.

Flint Vineyards England | p30

In just four years, Flint Vineyards have become one of England's most exciting new wine producers. Based in Norfolk, the sunniest and driest region in the UK, husband and wife team Ben and Hannah Witchell's mission from the outset has been to produce world-class wines.

THE BORDEAUX PROJECT

In January 2020, we launched our pioneering Bordeaux Project, that shakes up the selling of Bordeaux fine wine to the On Trade and Independent Retail markets.

Customers are now able to buy an ongoing selection of mature Bordeaux fine wines with perfect provenance at competitive prices, sourced directly from the cellar of the Chateau, ranging from Cru Bourgeois to First Growths.

The carefully selected range, with an ambitious activation and support programme, forges a new link between Bordeaux and the On Trade, a proposition that has not before been seen in the trade. Participating Chateaux in the first phase include:

1. Chateau Pedesclaux and Chateau d'Issan
2. Chateau Cos d'Estournel (Red and White), Pagodes de Cos and Goulée by Cos d'Estournel
3. Chateau Mouton Rothschild, Chateau d'Armailhac and Chateau Clerc Milon
4. Chateau Pichon Baron and Tourelles de Longueville
5. Chateau Tronquoy Lalande
6. Chateau Potensac and Clos du Marquis

Over 40 mature Bordeaux fine wines are available as part of the project.

We have a track record of delivering site level segmentations to inform consumer-focussed commercial decisions, that increase both consumer enjoyment and partner returns.

Using this approach helps inform everything from the ranges we create, to the incentives we put in place for staff, to the order in which new sites should be refurbished, to identifying new site acquisitions for customer expansion.

PRODUCT

On Trade pricing tracker

Using PRODUCT, we can tell you how your pricing stacks up against your competitors.

Top-down trend tracker

Rather than relying on sales data, which doesn't reveal trends until after they've begun, we expertly analyse the latest wine lists of over 60 industry-leading venues, from cocktail bars to Michelin starred restaurants.

With MODE we can see the next big trend in drinks before it happens.

	"ORANGE" / SKIN CONTACT Although there's yet to be a consensus on what the category should be called - Skin Contact, Skin Macerated, Orange, Amber or simply 'Skins' - this isn't the first time for Orange wine in Mode. Yet this year, it's proving its position as a standalone category on lists. While not every venue has bought into the trend, those that have (44%) are giving Orange wine a dedicated section, often with more listings than Rosé, and sourcing from across the globe - including Slovenia and Georgia.		AUSTRIA Austrian wine is emerging as a firm favourite among the premium On Trade, appearing on 9 in 10 lists - double that of last year. Even more tellingly, 8 in 10 premium lists include at least one Austrian wine by the glass. The alpine country may be best known for its Grüner Veltliner, but this accounts for less than 1 in 4 Austrian listings, with a representation of indigenous grapes, including Blaufränkisch, Zweigelt and Saint Laurent, as well as Austrian Sparkling.
	ALTERNATIVE SPARKLING English Sparkling is gaining a reputation as a must-list in the premium On Trade, seen on 1 in 2 lists and accounting for almost a fifth of total Sparkling listings. Alternative Grémant is also gaining traction, with 2 in 3 French Sparkling listings originating from alternative regions to the Loire. There is a notable absence of Prosecco; Mode-tracked venues are more likely to list Cava (37%) than Prosecco (7%) - could it be time for the Spanish Sparkling to see more of the spotlight?		SMALLER SERVES Small serves are bang on trend in the premium On Trade. Over a third of Mode-tracked lists offer sharing carafes, either in 375ml or 500ml, as an option for all by-the-glass listings. Carafes tend to be listed alongside smaller-than-standard glasses (25ml) - ideal for experimentation. Demonstrating that bigger doesn't always mean better, 37% of premium On Trade outlets list half bottles. With an average list price of £70, these 375ml listings are making premium wine more accessible.

Made up of three tiers of content: Wine Essentials, Wine Confidence, Beyond Grapes, broken down into 25 bespoke modules, you can decide how in-depth you want the training to be. We also have a library of short wine videos for the entire Bibendum portfolio to help you quickly and effectively train your staff on your list.

Already have an e-learning platform? No problem! In most cases we can integrate our content into your existing Learning Management System. Contact your Bibendum account manager for more information.
